Bruce B. Darling
Executive Officer
National Research Council
500 Fifth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Mr. Darling:

I write today to request information regarding the National Research Council's support for scientific research into the causes and prevention of gun violence.

In the aftermath of the shooting at Sandy Hook Elementary School, President Obama issued a memorandum in January 2013 directing scientific agencies within the Department of Health and Human Services to conduct or sponsor public health research into the causes of gun violence and the ways to prevent it.<sup>1</sup> In response, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) asked the Institute of Medicine to convene stakeholders to identify the most pressing research questions on gun violence.<sup>2</sup> The CDC also met with a number of executive branch agencies to discuss approaches for strengthening data to understand patterns and characteristic of firearm violence, address research questions, and determine opportunities to collaborate on current or future efforts.

To better understand the National Research Council's efforts related to gun violence release and the President's memorandum, please provide the following information:

1. Please describe the National Research Council's policy toward scientific research into the causes and prevention of gun violence.
2. Please describe the efforts the National Research Council has taken or plans to take in response to the President's January 2013 memorandum regarding gun violence research.
3. From 1996 to the present, please describe notable examples of research conducted or funded by the National Research Council related to gun violence. Please also provide all instances when the National Research Council included requests for gun violence research in its research proposal solicitation materials.

4. For each year from FY1996 to FY2015, what portion of the National Research Council's budget has been devoted to gun violence research?
5. From 1996 to the present, has the National Research Council faced any obstacles, such as a lack of funding or interest from the research community, in conducting scientific research on gun violence?

Please respond to this letter by June 24, 2016. The Committee's minority staff is authorized to conduct this investigation under the authority of Senate Rule XXV and Senate Resolution 73 (114th Congress). If you or members of your staff have any questions about this request, please feel free to contact Roberto Berrios at (202) 224-2627. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

With best personal regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

Tom Carper
