COMMITTEE ON
HOMELAND SECURITY AND GOVERNMENTAL AFFAIRS
WASHINGTON, DC 20510-6250

September 10, 2026

The Honorable Markwayne Mullin
Secretary
Department of Homeland Security
245 Murray Lane SW
Washington, D.C. 20528

Dear Secretary Mullin:

I write to express my serious concerns about the Administration's counterterrorism priorities, and to notify you of your records retention obligations to ensure the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) preserves all relevant records and communications related to the Administration's actions.¹

Recently, as Ranking Member of the Senate Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs Committee, I released a report titled Failure to Protect: How the Trump Administration Gutted, Politicized, and Weaponized America's Counterterrorism Infrastructure, which outlined the Administration's dismantling of critical national security agencies and programs and diversion of significant resources and attention away from the fight against terrorism. The report catalogued the ideologically motivated firings, realignment of personnel, dismantling of key offices, the politicization of critical grants, and the wielding of government resources as a weapon against political opponents that are undermining our nation's security.

At DHS alone, the Administration has cut or threatened to cut key parts of the Department that serve this mission and empower stakeholders, including the Office of Intelligence and Analysis, the Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency, the Federal Emergency Management Agency, and the Center for Prevention Programs and Partnerships.²

² Minority Staff, Senate Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs Committee, Failure to Protect: How the Trump Administration Gutted, Politicized, and Weaponized America's Counterterrorism Infrastructure (July 2026).

At the same time, the Administration has ignored significant evidence-based threats from white supremacists, nihilist violence extremists, and other extremists to instead target its political opponents under the guise of “left-wing extremism.” Despite the lack of evidence that “left-wing extremism” is the most significant domestic terrorism threat to Americans, the President unlawfully “designated” Antifa a domestic terrorist organization and put out National Security-Presidential Memorandum-7 ordering government agencies to focus their resources on this priority.³ Former Attorney General Pam Bondi then disseminated an implementation memo to all federal prosecutors, law enforcement agencies, and DOJ grant-making components outlining this as a top priority for DOJ and its agencies.⁴ Now Joint Task Force Vanguard is leading these efforts across the government.

All of this is happening while the United States remains in a conflict with a leading state-sponsor of terrorism and its proxies, Americans continue to fear that they will be killed in their own houses of worship, and political violence has spiked across the country. Consistent and clear data about the threat of domestic terrorism to Americans is a major gap, which is why I ensured that Congress established a requirement in the Fiscal Year 2020 National Defense Authorization Act that the FBI and Department of Homeland Security provide Congress and the American people with a yearly strategic assessment so we could ensure the executive branch is properly resourcing and addressing the real threats facing Americans. The Administration’s first Annual Intelligence Community (IC) Threat Assessment – the guiding document for the IC – failed to mention domestic terrorism, a notable omission that is inconsistent with previous years of reporting.⁵ The Administration also quietly removed a DOJ study from a DOJ website showing that since 1990, far- right extremist attacks have outpaced all other types of terrorism and domestic violent extremism.⁶

The American people deserve to have confidence that their leaders are protecting them from genuine threats to national security. I therefore direct you to preserve all existing and future records and materials on counterterrorism activities and efforts, including all decisions about personnel, resource allocation and prioritization and any data backing the Administration’s counterterrorism priorities.

The Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs is authorized by Rule XXV of the Standing Rules of the Senate to investigate “the efficiency, economy, and effectiveness of all agencies and departments of the Government.”⁷ Additionally, Senate
