The Honorable Hillary Rodham Clinton
Secretary of State
U.S. Department of State
2201 C Street N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20520

Dear Madam Secretary:

I am writing to request information from the State Department regarding the Department's response to the recent report by the Special Inspector General for Afghanistan Reconstruction (SIGAR), which found significant problems with the oversight of taxpayer dollars spent to support the Afghan government.

On July 20, 2011, SIGAR released an audit report titled, "Limited Interagency Coordination and Insufficient Controls over U.S. Funds in Afghanistan Hamper U.S. Efforts to Develop the Afghan Financial Sector and Safeguard U.S. Cash." SIGAR found that U.S. agencies' continued failure to coordinate their actions has hampered efforts to assist the Afghan government and Afghanistan's central bank, Da Afghanistan Bank, to strengthen the Afghan economy. According to SIGAR, the government's failure to adequately oversee U.S. funds distributed to contractors has played a significant role in these problems:

U.S. agencies do not record the serial numbers of cash disbursed to contractors ... commercial banks do not record the serial numbers of electronic payments made by U.S. agencies to contractors and other recipients when their electronic payments are converted into cash ... [and] U.S. contracting regulations neither prohibit prime contractors from using unlicensed hawalas to pay subcontractors nor require them to use banks capable of handling electronic funds transfers.¹

The ongoing lack of interagency coordination and its impact on contractor oversight were also the primary focus of the Subcommittee's June 30, 2011 hearing on Afghan reconstruction and development contracts. At the hearing, no witness could name a single office or individual across government that was
